Hey, I'M MARIANA

I'm an Argentinian photographer based in Costa Rica — and I've spent the last 12 years falling in love with this country all over again through every couple I photograph.

What I do is simple: I show up fully for you. I handle the details, I know the hidden spots most photographers never find, and I make sure you actually enjoy your wedding day instead of stressing through it.

My style is natural, spontaneous, and real — because the moments that matter most are never posed. They just happen. My job is to be ready when they do.

I pride myself on keeping things natural, fun, and carefree. Whether we are chasing the perfect sunset or exploring beautiful landscapes and cities, I guarantee that we will have a blast together. So, let's embark on an unforgettable journey and capture beautiful memories that will last a lifetime!

My approach to photography is natural, spontaneous and carefree, so you can expect a fun and stress-free time.

LET'S GET INTO IT!

MY philosophy

Every love story is irreplaceable. Every wedding, unrepeatable.
My philosophy is simple — forget the camera is there. Your energy, your quirks, the way you two are together — that's what makes your photos impossible to replicate.

MY mantra

This isn't about photos. It's about the experience of being truly seen.
The way your day feels — the energy, the chaos, the quiet in between — that's what I'm here to capture.
We're not just making images together. We're crafting something you'll come back to for the rest of your life.

WHAT TO expect

Wedding photography isn't just about having someone with a camera. It's about finding someone who actually gets you — your energy, your story, the way you laugh, the way you look at each other when you think no one's watching.

That's what I give my couples. Real, effortless images that feel like them — not like a template, not like everyone else's wedding photos. Yours.

I've photographed love stories across four continents — documentary work in India, editorial shoots in Spain, Mexico and Argentina, weddings in the US, Canada, Aruba and beyond. Every destination teaches me something new about light, about culture, about the way people celebrate. And I bring all of that to your wedding day, wherever in the world it takes me.

My friends call me a "master problem solver" — which means you get to actually enjoy your day while I handle everything else. No stress, no stiff poses, no awkward direction. Just you, your people, and photos that will make you feel exactly the way you felt that day — every time you look at them.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

01

We're not 'photo people' — will we still look good?

Absolutely! Most of my couples say the same thing before the shoot — and end up loving every single photo. My approach is casual and candid, so there's minimal posing and maximum fun. You're in good hands, I promise.

02

What happens if it rains on our wedding day?

Rain in Costa Rica? Actually not a bad thing! Some of my most stunning shots have been in the rain. I always have a backup plan and know exactly how to work with any weather. No stress — I've got it covered.

03

How far in advance should we book?

The sooner the better! Peak season dates (December–April) tend to fill up 8–12 months in advance. That said, feel free to reach out even if your date is close — I'll always let you know if I'm available.

04

How many photos will we receive?

It depends on the package, but you can expect at least 60 fully edited images per hour of coverage. Every photo is carefully selected and edited — quality over quantity, always.

05

Do you travel outside Costa Rica?

Yes! I've shot weddings in the US, Canada, Aruba, and beyond. Travel fees apply depending on the destination — get in touch and I'll put together a custom quote for you.

06

Do we need to pay everything upfront?

Not at all! A 30% non-refundable deposit secures your date, and the final balance is due 2 weeks before the wedding. Easy and stress-free — just like the day itself.
